

MEETING THE LEARNING NEEDS OF OUR SPECIAL EDUCATION CHILDREN

Parents, family members, and other trusted adults can play important roles in helping children with differing abilities to navigate this time away from school. These useful resources will help you talk about COVID-19 with your child, while also providing engaging at-home learning opportunities.

Name & Link	Description
Teaching Your Child?	Valuable resources to support your child with differing abilities within the home.
Brain Pop	Animated educational resource for children, covering Science, Social Studies, English, Math, and more.
Understood: Tips for Parents	Tools and resources providing updates on issues that impact learning and special education.
Do2Learn	Thousands of free social skills and behavioral regulation activities, learning songs and games, and communication cards.
Metro Kids	Experts in special needs areas recommend appropriate activities to build self-esteem.
Mindful School	Free online mindfulness classes for children, including mindful eating and movement.
Edutopia: New Strategies	Schedules, sensory supports, and close collaboration with families.
Special Education Activities	Varied choice activities where parents collaborate with children to create final projects.
Special Education Resources	COVID-19 school closure educational resources for families of students with disabilities.
Wide Open School	Learning choices to meet the needs of your child with differing abilities.

TIPS FOR SUCCESS

- » Get your child moving with indoor and outdoor physical activities.
- » Provide your child choice when selecting an activity to engage with and complete.
- » Remember to allow for frequent brain breaks and quiet calming activities throughout the day.

Remote Learning Resources

Copyright © Intel Corporation. All Rights Reserved. Other names and brands may be claimed as the property of others.