

READING AND WRITING ENRICHMENT

Research shows that students who read every day have improved fluency and vocabulary. Whether your student likes comic books, adventure, fantasy, or romance, the following resources can be used to support their interests in reading and writing.

Name & Link	Description
Libby	Connect to a large collection of free digital resources from your local library.
Abdo Bookshelf	A library of educational ebooks made available during school closures.
Typing Skills	Improve your typing skills.
52 Journal Prompts to Help You Connect with Your Teen	Journaling prompts geared specifically towards teens.
10 of the Best Books for Teens	A list of recently published books with a focus on teen interests.
What's Going on in This Picture?	Look closely at images, stripped of their captions, and observe what's going on.
CK-12 Text Books	A library of free textbooks with simulations and built-in assessments.
Fan Fiction	An online community for authors and readers of fanfiction.
Do a One Sentence Project	Hone your focus and expertise by creating a one-sentence story.
15 Fun Poetry Ideas for High School	A poetry toolbox filled with ways to help teens channel their inner poet.

Remote Learning Resources

Copyright © Intel Corporation. All Rights Reserved.
Other names and brands may be claimed as the property of others.